COMPANY OVERVIEW

PJT Partners is a premier global advisory-focused investment bank. Our team of senior professionals delivers a wide array of strategic advisory, shareholder advisory, restructuring and special situations, and private fund advisory and fundraising services to corporations, financial sponsors, institutional investors, alternative investment managers, and governments around the world. We offer a unique portfolio of advisory services designed to help our clients achieve their strategic objectives. PJT Partners began trading on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) under the symbol PJT on October 1, 2015. <https://pjtpartners.com/>

CELESTE GUTH is a partner in the Strategic Advisory Group at PJT Partners. Prior to joining PJT, she spent time at Deutsche Bank, where she was most recently Global Head of Mergers and Acquisitions and a member of the Corporate and Investment Bank Executive Committee after being Global Head of the Financial Institutions Group.

Guth joined Deutsche Bank in March 2016 from Goldman Sachs, where she was a partner and vice chairman of the Global Financial Institutions Group and global co-head of Insurance Investment Banking. She held a variety of leadership positions during her 29 years at Goldman including Head of Americas Financial Institutions Group from 2003 to 2012. During her tenure at Goldman Sachs, Guth led a number of significant Mergers and Acquisitions (M&A), equity, and restructuring transactions for insurers as well as other financial institutions in the Americas, Europe, and Asia. Guth serves on the Board of Trustees of The Hewitt School, the advisory board of New York University Hospital's Perlmutter Cancer Institute, and is a member of the Queens College Foundation Board of Trustees. She holds a bachelor's degree from Queens College and an MBA from Harvard Business School.

MICHAEL FREUDENSTEIN joined PJT Partners in September 2017 following 31 years at J.P. Morgan, where he was most recently Managing Director, Head of North American Market Structure and Asset Management in the Financial Institutions Group (FIG). He oversaw J.P. Morgan's Corporate Finance and M&A business with public and private market structure and asset management companies. In addition to advising companies on M&A, Freudenstein has extensive experience helping companies raise capital across equity, equity-linked, high-grade debt, and non-investment grade debt.

Prior to joining FIG in 2006, Freudenstein was Co-Head of North American Equity Research and the firm's senior analyst for both the Brokerage and Asset Management and Specialty Finance sectors. He was named to the Institutional Investor's All-America Research Team for his coverage of specialty finance companies for five straight years, including first team recognition in 2000. Freudenstein has a BA in accounting from Queens College and an MBA from Fordham University's Graduate School of Business.
